

The Family That Flourishes

LAST WEEK'S MESSAGE

When it comes to the next generation, we must prepare our children for the path, not the path for our children. As parents wanting our children to be safe, we sometimes avoid letting them take risks. But just like how a butterfly cannot fully develop when forced out of its cocoon, our children cannot have the proper tools for life's difficulties if they do not go through "growing up". Someday, they will face risks that will help them develop into mature men and women and will need to work hard for what they want that they may grow into good adults taking on many roles.

How can we prepare our children for the path?

Four Junctions to Invest in Your Kids (Deuteronomy 6:7)

We can maximize these junctions in our daily parenting:

1. "When you sit down": use mealtimes to teach, process their experiences with them
2. "When you walk": use travel time for conversations
3. "When you lie down": you can play the role of counselor to your kids during bedtime
4. "When you get up": you can send them out with encouraging words to face the day

Train Up Your Child (Proverbs 22:6)

We can help our children mature into adults as they live in an EPIC (Experiential, Participatory, Image-rich, Connected) generation. Here are some ways to do that:

1. Do something "scary" with them. Allow your children to do something out of their comfort zone to help them grow and depend on God. Process the experience with them.
2. Give them opportunities to interact with someone significant. As they converse with an influential person in society, they learn and gain confidence.
3. Travel someplace new and different as a family. Unfamiliar and uncomfortable experiences increase their awareness, responsibility, and independence. It can be nearby as long as it is different and new.
4. Guide them to chase a meaningful goal. Having a target to hit motivates and energizes them to go after it. Give your children a chance to pursue their goals.
5. Let them work and wait for something they want. When children learn to work and wait for what they want, they become more grateful when they finally get it.

Our Choice as Leaders of the Next Generation

If we treat our children as fragile, they will become fragile adults. But if we communicate that they are worthy of high standards, they will rise to the occasion.

If we lead them well, they will...	If we don't lead them well, they will...
Be problem solvers	Be part of the problem
Embrace a service mindset	Embrace a scarcity mindset
Enjoy PTG (growth mindset)	Be triggered by stress (PTSD)
Emerge with a grit narrative	Emerge with a victim narrative
See a silver lining	See a dark cloud
Be resilient and resourceful	Be reactive and regretful

Shifts We Have to Make to Lead the Next Generation

- Don't think CONTROL, think CONNECT. Instead of taking control when things go wrong, connect with them. When we understand where they are coming from, we are able to influence them more.
- Don't think INFORM, think INTERPRET. Instead of informing them of what they already learned from available sources (Google, YouTube, etc.), help them "interpret" or make sense of what they learn.
- Don't think TELL, think ASK. Jesus often led with questions. As your children grow into teens, shift from telling them to asking them questions like "How did you come to that conclusion?", "What made you do that?", or "Do you think that's the best solution?"
- Don't think LECTURE, think LAB. Instead of lecturing them, let young people practice what they have learned. These experiences make them grow more.
- Don't think MANAGE, think MENTOR. Surround your teenager with trusted mentors learn from. Let them go through a "rite of passage" where they can transition from being a teenager into a young adult. Your Dgroup family can be mentors to your children!

Is God calling you to be a mentor to a young person today? Just like Issachar in 1 Chronicles 12:32 who understood the times they lived in, we also need to be aware of what's going on in today's society and prepare our children for the path they need to face as we help them develop and mature into Christ-committed followers.

last week's memory verse

You shall teach them diligently to your sons and shall talk of them when you sit in your house and when you walk by the way and when you lie down and when you rise up.

DEUTERONOMY 6:7

discuss this message

How well do you take advantage of the different junctions in your day (mealtime, travel time, mornings, and bed time)? Do you utilize these times to disciple your kids?

Do you overprotect your kids? How do you plan to help them mature by letting them do something scary or risky?

Today's culture of smart technology affects kids today through instant gratification. Is technology your servant rather than your master? How do you plan to counter this?

YOU BEING HERE IS NO ACCIDENT!

God brought you here
for His purpose.

God loves you.

He desires for you to have a meaningful life with Him in the present and gain eternal life with Him in the future.

*Know therefore that the Lord your God,
He is God, the faithful God, who keeps His covenant and His lovingkindness to a thousandth generation with those who love Him and keep His commandments
– Deuteronomy 7:9*

God is holy.

We are sinful, and our sin separates us from Him.

Everyone has sinned and is far away from God's saving presence. – Romans 3:23

God is merciful.

In His love, He made the only way for us to be reconciled to Him: through His son, Jesus Christ. Jesus had to die on the cross for our sins and be raised to life for eternity.

But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, having now been justified by His blood, we shall be saved from the wrath of God through Him. – Romans 5:8

*I am the way, and the truth, and the life;
no one comes to the Father but through
Me. – John 14:6*

God is gracious.

By placing our faith in Jesus Christ, we are forgiven of our sins and saved from eternal death.

For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have eternal life. – John 3:16

For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not as a result of works, so that no one may boast. – Ephesians 2:8-9

Would you like to place your faith in Jesus Christ today?

Lord Jesus, I need You. I confess that I am a sinner. I believe that You died on the cross to pay for all my sins. With Your help, I will turn away from my sins. Please come into my life and be my Savior and my Master. I accept Your gift of eternal life. Make me the kind of new person You want me to be. Thank You for giving me eternal life. Amen.

God keeps His promises.

You can be sure that you have eternal life
when you trust in Jesus.

And the testimony is this, that God has given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He who has the Son has the life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have the life. These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, so that you may know that you have eternal life. — 1 John 5:11-13
